

PREVIEW

Huswifery • To My Dear and Loving Husband

Summary Taylor's poem is addressed to God. The speaker in the poem compares himself to a spinning wheel that turns yarn into cloth. The speaker wants to be changed by God into a person who is worthy of being saved. In Bradstreet's poem, the speaker addresses her husband. She expresses her deep love for him, which will endure even after their lives on earth are over.

Note-taking Guide

Use this chart to help you compare elements of these two poems.

Taylor		Bradstreet
	The poet is speaking to...?
	Images in poem
	Religious references	